

Rosewell House Care Home

Rosewell House is a 60-bed facility across 2 floors (6 wings) for the rehabilitation and intermediate service for older people, working in partnership with the NHS.

This facility provides step-up and step-down care to the people of Aberdeen city and shire.

The purpose of the facility is to allow for service users to rest and recuperate out with a clinical environment, such as hospital, for any further assessments or provisions to be made before they can safely return to their own home.
